PEC has contracted with a company called Growth Solutions to provide Tree Growth Regulators to trees growing under electrical lines. After PEC's tree trimming contractors are finished, they provide Growth Solutions employees with the addresses where significant trimming was done. Door hangers are then provided to those homes with offers to homeowners for a free application of the Regulators. I've confirmed this with PEC and with our Texas Forest Service representative. The first draft of a zoning ordinance change to include the Cat Hollow area into our zoning is now in our attorney's hands. Once he gets his first draft done, we will start an informal review followed finally with the formal process of hearings and work sessions and formal meetings.
