Mandatory outdoor watering schedule: May 1 – September 31. Still in effect. Our system is struggling to keep up. Please call us if you view offenders. BTW, houses on the lake don't count since they may be pulling water directly from the lake.

I mentioned last month that Travis County is initiating an effort to organize Travis County evacuation efforts. Linda Aldrich has volunteered to take over the effort as our representative. Thank you, Linda for volunteering.

There are at least three sets of tree trimmers for PEC working Briarcliff. I'm trying to watch that they paint the cuts. It's always the same crews and they've all been talked to. So far, no objection.

After y'all agreed to my unofficial poll last month about including the Cat Hollow area in our zoning, I'm working on it. Plan to get a draft document to the attorney in the next couple of weeks. This is a major project – lot's of issues involved.

Travis Appraisal District just sent us the result of appraisals in Briarcliff. The total appraised value increased by $120 million from last year.

City Administrator, Aaron Johnson reported everybody is using a lot of water and Wednesdays seem to be the worst. With the water being warm the zebra mussels are dying. Some chemical will have to be given to solve the problem.
